Letter from the President

Happy Holidays and Farewell from HPCA President Bodenhamer

Happy Holidays, Hyde Parkers!

There are many opportunities to celebrate in our community this month – see the events listed on this page and find more info inside. Don't miss these special activities coordinated by civic association volunteers:

TRIM LAMAR PARK CHRISTMAS TREE ON DEC. 2, 10AM

Come help decorate our community tree, generously donated by Niko Niko's – bring the kiddos to help! Lamar Park is on Hyde Park Blvd. between Waugh and Commonwealth.

HOLIDAY PARTY AT RIVAS ON DEC. 4, 7PM

Purchase $15 buffet tickets at our very own delightfully festive Rivas restaurant on Missouri @ Yoakum. Purchase tickets at www.hydeparkhouston.org. While you're at it, don't forget to renew your 2018 membership as well!

CAROLING IN THE PARK ON DEC. 14, 6:30PM

Songs will be led by musical group Constant Billy, featuring residents Bill Galbraith and Emily Standish. Enjoy hot chocolate donated by Campesino Coffee.

Wanted: Newsletter Editor

If you have graphic design skills, please email president@hydeparkhouston.org

LOOKING FORWARD IN 2018

See inside for details on 2018 board of directors and many other volunteer roles in need of filling.

This is my last letter as your president, as my term expires end of year. It's been a pleasure leading the association for the past four years. Thank you for your support. And BIG KUDOS to all the volunteers who keep our community connected. Special recognition goes to departing newsletter editor, Adrienne Wong, whose dedicated efforts have made this publication possible for almost three years. We have big shoes to fill, Adrienne!

Here's to a joyous holiday season for all,
Macy Bodenhamer

Editor's note: Thank you to the contributors and sponsors, and in particular, president Macy Bodenhamer, who helped me put the newsletter together every month. You've all made volunteering a lot of fun!

HPCA November 2017 Meeting Minutes

The November Hyde Park Civic Association general meeting was held on Monday, Nov. 6, at Rudyard's Pub and commenced at 6:45pm.

There were approximately 20 people in attendance. President Macy Bodenhamer greeted everyone and announced the annual voting would take place that night for the open positions. Bodenhamer introduced Ben Brewer, president of the Montrose Management District, who followed with his presentation of the district's proposed Montrose plan. See the article on page 3 for a recap.

The slate of candidates was announced, which included Barry Baumgarten for Deed Restrictions Committee Member #2 and Pastor Ashley Elisabeth Bathe Dellagiacoma (of Kindred) for the At-Large Board Member position. Both candidates won with unanimous support. There were no nominated candidates on the ballot for the positions of President and Secretary, nor did any candidates run from the floor. Those positions remain open until the Board can vet potential volunteers, who would then be appointed by board vote.

Membership Committee Chair Helen Zunka gave a brief update stating the association was just shy of 200 members. She announced the upcoming happy hour at The Flat on Nov. 16. Neighbors were encouraged to attend and renew membership. Everyone was also encouraged to attend the Rivas holiday party on Monday, Dec. 4. Tickets can be purchased via PayPal at www.hydeparkhouston.org. HPCA will also be hosting the second annual Christmas Caroling in December and the date will be announced once finalized.

Treasurer Veronica Faubert continued with the Treasurer's report. The balance opened and closed at about $17,400, which included $270 in membership revenue and $280 expense for Lamar Park Maintenance. Both revenue and expenses were understated for October as NNO membership checks were cashed in November and Newsletter expenses were paid in November.

Board Director and Deed Restrictions Committee Member Mike McKann gave a Deed Restrictions update. He brought up one sick and compromised tree that was taken down by builders. The builders will replace with a tree half the size and comply with all other deed restrictions for the setbacks. He mentioned there was one neighbor that asked to be removed from Deed Restrictions list but HPCA does not have the authority to do so and that may have to be resolved in court. There was another incident involving the removal of trees on Willard Street by builders, which violated the Deed Restrictions. 1506 Fairview is another property under scrutiny because it is going to be used as a sales office and that is against the Deed Restrictions. One member of the Association stated that he intends to fund legal review of the builder's violation and will consider further legal action if necessary. Bodenhamer explained that the board shares the same concern. She noted that any official actions directly involving the Association would need to be in accordance with bylaws and be presented before the board for vote.

Bodenhamer closed the meeting by addressing the departure of our newsletter editor, Adrienne Wong. The board seeks a new volunteer editor to start in December for the January newsletter. The position requires 4-6 hours monthly to produce the newsletter and the person needs graphic design knowledge. She urged everyone to spread the word as this role is vital. The meeting ended at 8pm.

Correction: November 2017 issue of the Hyde Park Newsletter, p.1: The title of the column written by Macy Bodenhamer should have read Letter from the President, not Letter from the Vice-president. Apologies to Macy and readers for any confusion caused.

2018 Hyde Park Board of Directors

Annual elections for 2018 open positions on the association's board of directors were held at the general meeting on Nov. 2.

Barry Baumgarten was re-elected for Deed Restrictions Committee Member #2. New candidate Pastor Ashley Elisabeth Bathe Dellagiacoma of the worship space Kindred was elected as At-Large Board Director. The positions of President and Secretary remain open, as no candidates were on the ballot. These positions remain open – potential volunteers can be appointed by board vote.

If you're interested in supporting your community by serving on the board or in another volunteer capacity, please contact Volunteer Coordinator Roy Brooks at volunteer@hydeparkhouston.org.

Montrose Management District Shares Long-Team Improvement Plan

New Executive Director Ben Brewer presented the proposed Montrose District Service, Improvement and Assessment Plan 2017-2031 at the Hyde Park November general meeting held on Nov. 6. He opened by saying how excited he was to be here and working for our neighborhood. He recently relocated to Houston after working 25 years in San Antonio running programs focused on the revitalization of downtown.

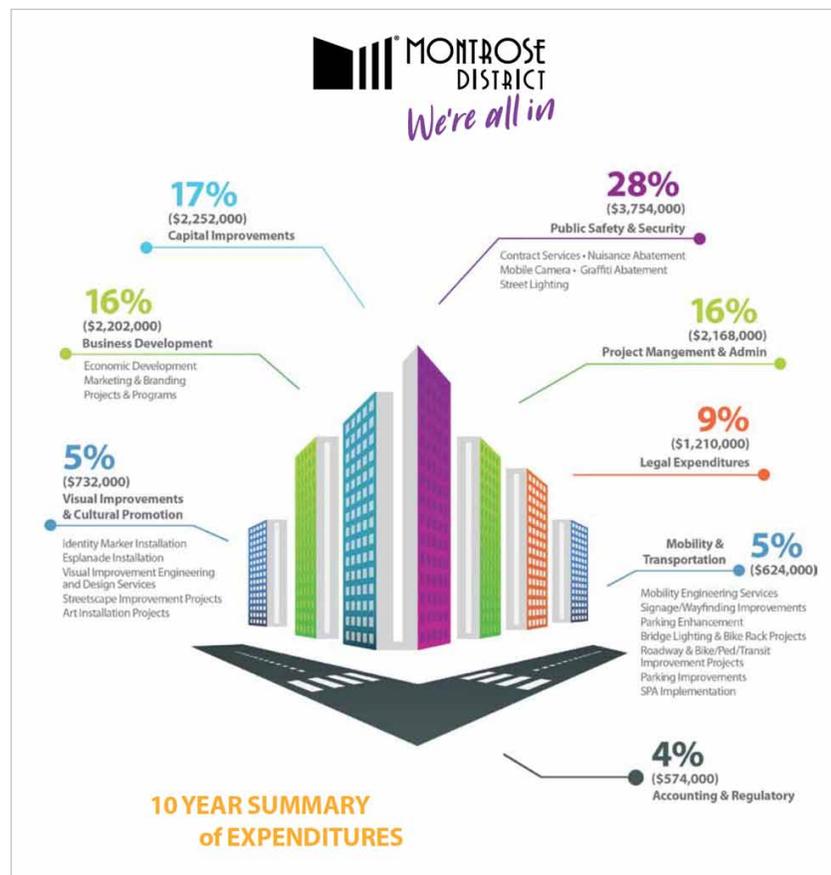

Brewer reviewed the plan, which had been in place since 2009 and now is in process of reauthorization. He noted the positive trend in the decrease of crime throughout the neighborhood. The District has developed strategies and actions to enhance the level of public safety and security. Today the majority of crimes involve public intoxication and burglary of vehicles. Police officers will continue to proactively patrol the District's commercial areas to reduce criminal opportunities. They give warnings to people if there is something in their car that could potentially be stolen. Uniform pan and broom operations will be put in place to physically pick up trash and concurrently provide eyes and ears looking for criminal activity.

Other projects involve visual improvements such as the installation of identity markers on bike racks. The District also advocates concepts to improve internal mobility and regional access including a Special Parking Area (SPA). The SPA is the first phase of a broader parking management plan that is intended to be expanded to the entire District. It was instituted to relax parking requirements by allowing parking at greater distances from businesses. The District will also improve infrastructure by assisting in the full implementation of a capital improvements program for the Montrose TIRZ, which is in charge of the building and the District is primarily in charge of the maintenance.

The District has adopted the Walkable Montrose Master Plan. This plan envisions a much more "walkable" street concept. Everyone wants to see Montrose become more walkable and give priority to pedestrians and bicyclists as much as autos. The plan also allows easier access between buffalo bayou trails on foot and improved pedestrian safety and security for enhanced pedestrian comfort.

Brewer ended his presentation by encouraging everyone to get involved and attending any of the District's events. He then opened the floor for questions.

Source: Montrose District website, <http://montrosedistrict.org/wp-content/uploads/2012/03/mmd-2017-sp-brochure-web.pdf>

Someone inquired about the Richmond rail line that the city was potentially going to build. Brewer said that plan died out because the federal government was in favor of a bus rapid transit much like the rail but without the great expense associated.

One resident asked if businesses would allow people to park in their space during off hours. Brewer said that it was part of the long-term plan within the next five years to collaborate with businesses to implement this.

Another neighbor asked how soon the plan would be finalized to allow civic associations to opt in to use of security patrols. Brewer stated that that was one of the proposals for the next year. Some associations have collaborated with constable patrols, but others do not have the budget to hire them.

Another resident asked if there was anything Brewer could do to help with Hyde Park's dolphin fountain in Lamar Park. Plans to fix the fountain involve using pre-approved contractors required by the Parks Board that would cost a large sum of money that Hyde Park cannot currently afford. Brewer said that he would be happy to look into the opportunity further. Board members will provide more information about the project for follow up and consideration.

Find a copy of the Improvement Plan online at <http://montrosedistrict.org/wp-content/uploads/2012/03/mmd-2017-sp-brochure-web.pdf>. Ben Brewer can be reached at BBrewer@MontroseDistrict.org.

Things to do for the Holidays in Houston 2017

Houston Zoo Lights: Hot chocolate, displays made up of more than two million lights, a life-sized snow globe, train display, music from local carolers at the Reflection Pool; through January 14, 2018.

Discovery Green's Winter Holiday Installations: A defining staple of Houston holidays. Features beloved outdoor skating rink (including themed skate nights), holiday lights and decorations, interactive sound and light display, and a photo-ready Merry Christmas family postcard; through January 21, 2018.

Holiday Light Sightseeing in Houston's Most Decorated Neighborhoods: Pile in the car and drive through River Oaks, the Woodland Heights, Prestonwood Forest, and Houston's other Christmas light-heavy 'hoods; through New Year's Day.

Moody Gardens' Festival of Lights: An impressive one million light display at Moody Gardens complete with animation and sound-enhancement, also includes an outdoor skating rink; through January 7, 2018.

Market Square Park's Mistletoe on the Go: The largest ball of mistletoe in Texas (diameter of 150 inches), squarely located at Market Square Park in Downtown; daily.

A Christmas Carol: A Ghost Story of Christmas at Alley Theatre: Ebenezer Scrooge's story of redemption as Christmas pageant; the Alley Theatre Company's first return to its home stage following Hurricane Harvey; through Dec 30.

George Ranch Historical Park's Christmas in the Park: festive hayrides exploring what Christmas looked like from the 1830s to 1930s, story time with Santa, traditional Texas holiday decorations, hay rides, holiday refreshments, and more; every Saturday in December leading up to Christmas and most weekdays during the week before the holiday.

The Nutcracker: Houston Ballet's beloved holiday offering; December 10 to 23 at Smart Financial Center and December 30, 2017 to January 6, 2018 at Hobby Center.

Handel's Messiah: Houston Symphony's timeless production; Thursday, December 14 at Sugar Land Baptist Church, December 15 to 17 at Jones Hall.

PMT Pop Up: Holiday Cabaret: Members of Houston's fringe art community perform family-friendly renditions of holiday classics, backed by the Pitch Me This Band, at this pop-up showcase from Pitch Me This Productions; Sunday, December 17 at the Continental Club on Mid-Main.

DID YOU KNOW?

As Christmas lights became more affordable in the 1940s and 1950s, people decorated their houses to symbolize the Christmas star that was supposed to have led the Three Wise Men to the manger where Jesus was born on Christmas Day. Today, it's become a bit of a competition among neighbors, but also allows kids and parents (and groups of friends) to experience one of the best holiday traditions – piling into the car and riding around town looking at Christmas lights. River Oaks is one neighborhood you shouldn't miss when looking for the city's best holiday lighting displays. Mansions and estates go all out with grand lighting displays that are a treat to see!

National Night Out 2017

Kindred,
October 3, 2017

Despite threatening rain and high humidity, Hyde Park Civic Association's National Night Out 2017 proved an enjoyable evening for over three hundred Hyde Parkers. This year however, the enjoyment of the evening stemmed not merely from the delicious food, but also from being dry—thanks to Pastor Ashley Dellagiacoma at Kindred and the Kindred family—for keeping us all in good spirits and indoors!

Food contributors to this year's National Night Out, included Acadian Bakery, Brookstreet BBQ, Capitol Beverage, La Mexicana, Nidda Thai, Pepperoni's, Pizza L'Vino, Riva's, Rudyards, and Underbelly/Hay Merchant.

Gift cards and door prizes were supplied by Barnaby's, Campesino's Coffee, Dogtopia, Inversion, Les Ba'get, Rosemont, Shaw's Jewelry, and Ramen Tatsu-Ya.

Advertising for the event was covered generously by Martha Turner Properties realtor Mike Spear and the Westheimer Storefront HPD. George Sroka also helped with flyers. The entire event's success was overseen by Chris Delphin, HPCA Vice-President, and it was brought to execution by countless HPCA volunteers, without whom none of the donations, event needs, or set-up and clean-up could have been accomplished. Food was collected for the Houston Food Bank in the aftermath of Hurricane Harvey, and neighbors had the chance to see both new and old faces!
